Man, this blog has gotten a little musty! Time to freshen things up with some more frequent posts and an maybe a re-skinning if I'm feeling bold. I'm working on my first new post in what seems like ages, but I'm going to be holding it for Monday cause that seems like when the most people hit my site or click through from coldfusionBloggers.org/. To give you a hint: I think I've found legit reason to use Evaluate()! Given how much I hate Evaluate() and all of its degenerate ilk, you'll want to tune back Monday to see if I've found a crazy corner case, or if I'm just nuts.
