So, I'm at CFUnited 2008 at the Washingto Convention Center here in DC. Its always a nifty experiance to be at CFUnited, and this year has thus far been no exeption, even though its just getting started. I'd bore you all with notes from the keynote presentations from Michael Smith of TeraTech and Ben Forta and Adam Lehman of Adobe, but I'm not sure many tech people even look at the blog, so I wont bore you.
